Day Works

Day Works is a licensed Chapter 2380 adult training facility operated by Paula Teacher & Associates, Inc. in Greensburg, PA

Program is open to both state and private funding and intellectual disability is not a criterion for admission. Program can also be designed for seniors, individuals in rehabilitation or persons looking to acquire new skills and experiences.

About the Program

The program is small and designed to help the participants meet their goals with individualized attention and instruction. It is fast paced and keeps the participants engaged and active. We conduct interest inventories and design programs based upon individual interests and needs. Instruction is outcome based to ensure participants achieve their short and long term goals. We work to enhance and increase level of independence and success for each person in both home and community settings.

The program utilizes its "community corner" to research and identify upcoming events, locate resources and increase involvement in the community. Transportation is provided to community sites where further skills training occurs including socialization, interaction and safety skills instruction. The program utilizes its community resources and public speakers to provide ongoing educational experiences.
